3. Exclusions. The restrictions on use and disclosure set forth above shall not apply when and to the extent that the Proprietary Information: (i) is or becomes generally available to the public or widely known in the industry through no fault of Recipient (or anyone acting on its behalf); (ii) was previously rightfully known to Recipient free of any obligation to keep it confidential; (iii) is subsequently disclosed to Recipient by a third party who may rightfully transfer and disclose such information without restriction and free of any obligation to keep it confidential; (iv) is independently developed by Recipient without reference to Discloser's Proprietary Information, or (v) is required to be disclosed by Recipient by applicable law, provided that Recipient uses all reasonable efforts to provide Discloser with at least ten (10) days' prior notice of such disclosure and Recipient discloses only that portion of the Proprietary Information that is legally required to be furnished pursuant to the opinion of legal counsel of Recipient.

4. Rights. All Proprietary Information disclosed by one party to the other in connection with this Agreement shall be deemed to be the property of Discloser or the appropriate third-party owner, as the case may be. Except as Recipient reasonably requires to accomplish the purposes provided herein, Recipient shall not reproduce such Proprietary Information, in whole or in part, without written authorization of Discloser. At the conclusion of the discussions between the parties or within five (5) business days of Discloser's earlier request, Recipient shall cease use of all Proprietary Information received hereunder and shall return it to Discloser or, at Recipient's option, destroy all tangible or retrievable materials embodying such Proprietary Information. If Recipient elects to destroy rather than return Proprietary Information, Recipient will provide Discloser, at Discloser's request, with an affidavit affirming that such Proprietary Information has been permanently and completely destroyed. However, machine-readable archival copies of Proprietary Information need only be destroyed in due course and Recipient's auditors or legal counsel may retain one (1) copy of Proprietary Information for the sole purpose of establishing what Proprietary Information has been received. Except as expressly provided herein, Discloser grants no license under any copyright, patent, trademark, trade secret or other intellectual property right by disclosure of Proprietary Information.

5. Legends. Each party agrees that it shall abide by and reproduce and include any restrictive legend or proprietary rights notice that appears in or on any Proprietary Information of the other party (or any third-party owner) that it is authorized to reproduce. Each party also agrees that it shall not remove, alter, cover or distort any trademark, trade name, copyright or other proprietary rights notices, legends, symbols or labels appearing on or in any Proprietary Information of the other party (or any third-party owner).

6. Records. Recipient shall at all times maintain appropriate measures to protect the security and integrity of any records it obtains or accesses pursuant to this Agreement, including, but not limited to, measures designed to protect against the unauthorized use, access, destruction, loss, or alteration of such records. Recipient shall also ensure that all of its partners, affiliates, representatives, agents and contractors who obtain or access any such records maintain appropriate measures to protect security and integrity of these records.

7. General Terms.

(b) Limited Obligations. Other than the obligations set forth herein, neither party shall have any further obligations to the other unless and until a definitive written agreement is executed. Either party may negotiate with others and may withdraw from negotiations at any time, for any reason, without obligation to the other. To the extent either party incurs costs or changes position as a result of any discussions between the parties it does so entirely as its own risk. This Agreement does not create any agency or partnership relationship.

(c) Public Statements; Use of Name. Neither party shall make, deliver or publish any public statements or descriptions of the Transactions (including statements that a Transaction is being discussed) without the prior written consent of the other party. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, and subject to the provisions of Sections 2 and 3, either party may provide disclosures as required by law or as reasonably advised by legal counsel without the consent of the other party, and in such event prompt notice thereof shall be provided to the other party. Neither party shall use the name or marks of the other for advertising or any other purposes without the prior written approval of the other party.

(d) No Assignment. Neither this Agreement nor any rights or obligations hereunder shall be assignable, delegable or otherwise transferable in whole or in part by either party.

(e) Injunctive Relief. The Parties acknowledge that the Proprietary Information to be disclosed hereunder is of a unique, valuable character and that a breach by the Recipient of this Agreement would cause incalculable and irreparable harm to the Discloser. Therefore, parties agree that the Discloser may seek injunctive relief, in addition to any other remedies available at law or in equity, preventing the dissemination of any Proprietary Information in violation of the terms hereof.

(f) Governing Law; Forum. This Agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of Texas, exclusive of its conflict of laws principles and the parties agree that any claim or dispute arising out of or related to this Agreement shall be exclusively filed in any State or Federal Court of competent jurisdiction in Galveston County, Texas.

(g) Enforceability. If any provision of this Agreement is held to be void or unenforceable, in whole or in part, the other provisions of this Agreement shall continue to be valid and the parties shall replace the void or unenforceable provision with one that is valid and enforceable and most nearly approximates their original intentions.

(h) Notices. All notices, requests, demands, and other communications (other than routine operational communications) required or permitted hereunder shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been received by a party (i) when actually received in the case of hand delivery against a signed receipt, (ii) two (2) business days after being given to a reputable overnight courier, or (iii) upon receipt when mailed by first class mail, postage prepaid, and addressed to such party at its address set forth herein (or to such other address as such party may designate in writing).

This instrument expresses the entire understanding of the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior oral or written agreements, commitments and understandings. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which when so executed and delivered shall be an original and all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Facsimile signatures are deemed to be equivalent to original signatures for purposes of this Agreement. No modification, amendment or waiver of any term or condition of this Agreement shall be binding upon a party unless it is in writing and is executed by the party against whom such modification, amendment or waiver is sought to be enforced.
